ANGEL ISLAND, Cal., July 20.—During the closely-guarded hearing of deportation proceedings against Harry Bridges at isolated Angel Island, a government witness against Bridges received a threat against his life.

This sensational episode in the Bridges case, which had been hushed-up by authorities, was learned exclusively by International News Service today, as U. S. department of labor aides sought additional protection for their witnesses from the San Francisco police department.

Witness threatened in the hearing room was John L. Leppard, ex-union official dubbed by his enemies as "Red Baiter No. 1 of the San Francisco waterfront." He had linked Bridges in testimony with the Communist party.

Meanwhile, the hearing continued with keen-witted Aaron Sapir, nationally famed labor lawyer, again on the stand with defense attorneys trying to blast his damaging testimony against Bridges, Australian-born west coast CIO director.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Paderewski's in the making can be heard as they practice their daily scales in the early morning in many homes.

It really begins to look as if the next Democratic presidential candidate will be a platinum blond. He sure takes a good picture.

Pa Newsc saw a truck load of caskets going up East Washington street Wednesday afternoon. He was glad to see that they went through New Castle and didn't stop. There were 21 caskets on the truck.

Lawn in front of the welfare office on Court street is beautified by a very fine bed of petunias. None of them are on relief, and they never go on a strike for more sunshine or rain. They just take the weather as it comes, smile at passers-by, or nod their little heads in friendly greeting. We like petunias, since they bloom all summer, never gossip about the hollyhocks or tiger lilies, go to sleep when autumn sings her lullaby, awaken in the spring and again put on one of the finest shows on earth.

Survey has about been completed for another runway at the municipal airport on the New Castle-Youngstown road. There are at present two runways, and if a third is built, it will advance the New Castle airport well up among the first ranking airports of the country. Air travel is becoming more popular every year, and with such an excellent landing field as we now possess, the future seems full of promise for a busy field some day. Quite a number of our young men are already becoming "high-flyers."

Warning has been given to a certain club in town that unless the noises emanating from the place are toned down, some sort of legal action will be started to "abate the nuisance." People living in the vicinity claim that it is hard for them (Continued On Page Two)

President Will Not Carry His Neutrality Fight Direct To People

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Barring development of another European crisis, President Roosevelt has made his last big formal statement on repeal of the arms embargo until next January.

White House aides said today that, contrary to congressional predictions, Mr. Roosevelt would not carry the neutrality fight direct to the country on his impending swing to the west coast.

Not To Revive Issue
Neither, it was stated, will he go on the air and revive the issue, now that senate leaders have accepted responsibility for pigeon-holing neutrality until January.

Those close to the president pointed out that under the circumstances he would be foolish to stump the country. The White House is aware that senate isolationists, anticipating he might, were prepared to follow him up and make America's foreign policy a matter of prolonged debate.

Possible taunts from the opposition that he is afraid to go to the country will fail to sway Mr. Roosevelt, it was said.

Attitude Unchanged
This decision, continued his intimates, in no way changes the chief executive's attitude. He still believes the senate should have acted and that failure to act weakened the American government's hand in the delicate field of international affairs. Should another crisis develop (Continued On Page Two)

Britain-France Given Surprise

Neutrality Revision Defeat
Of Roosevelt Is Shock
To Two Nations

THOUGHT PRESIDENT
HAD FULL CONTROL

By J. C. OESTREICHER
International News Service Foreign
Editor

Great Britain and France made no attempt to hide their keen disappointment and deep misgivings over President Roosevelt's neutrality defeat, the result of which may be a sharp reorientation of European diplomacy as regards the United States.

When the whole affair has been analyzed down to its root ends, as it will be in doleful ministerial conferences which will take place during the next few days, the so-called European democracies probably will reach the conclusion that they have been anything but smart in gauging the sentiments of America.

They took it for granted that Washington stood with London and Paris, come what may.

They felt they had proved beyond doubt that Germany alone of all the nations of Europe harbored aggressive designs.

There is no question that the entire foreign policy of Great Britain and France has been predicated during the past six months on public utterances of President Roosevelt and members of his cabinet. Because of the very nature of their own governments they found it difficult, almost impossible, to believe that congress might prove to be a decisive factor.

Senator Borah put it bluntly when he said: "We're not operating under a Hitler over here." To the British and French governments came the stunning realization that the American people remain a factor to be reckoned with.

Quick Ending Of Congress Now Becomes Doubtful

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 20.—Quick adjournment of congress was thrown into doubt today when senate Republicans, in a special caucus, decided to oppose a President Roosevelt's $3,460,000,000 lending program unless it is drastically modified.

While Democratic leaders announced sharp revision of the program to meet opposition, the Republicans demanded that the compromise be extended farther to prevent "government control of business which in former times was conducted by private enterprise." (Continued On Page Two)

Reach Agreement At Harlan, Kentucky

(International News Service)
HARLAN, Ky., July 20.—The war was cleared today for the removal from strife-torn Harlan county of heavily armed national guardsmen who since May 14 had patrolled the county's coal fields to enforce the peace in a bitter war between operators and the United Mine Workers.

Under a settlement of the controversy reached between negotiators for the mine owners and the U. M. W. at Knoxville, Tenn., all the 5,000 union workers in the mines of the 20 affected companies will return to their jobs at once.

The Knoxville conference, which had been in session almost continuously since last Friday, ended late yesterday with the signing of a two-year contract between the Harlan Coal Operators association and the U. M. W.

Await Opinion On Move To Ban Arms To Japan

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Opinions of the state department scheduled to be submitted to the senate foreign relations committee within the next few days, today held the fate of measures before congress seeking to impose a ban on export of American arms to the Japanese.

An unfavorable report was expected on the legislation sponsored by Foreign Relations Committee Chairman Pittman, directly asserting that this country might not ship death-dealing instruments or materials to Japan. A resolution looking to the same objective and sponsored by Senator Vandenberg (R-Michigan), was sent to the department for an opinion and because of its less punitive inferences may bring a report recommending its adoption.

This latter measure provided simply that the senate express itself in favor of notifying Japan that in six months the United States will abrogate the 1911 Treaty of Amity with the Japanese. Vandenberg pointed out that the resolution demanded no action for six months, and anticipated a favorable state department report. Pittman said such roundabout methods were "unnecessary," but admitted he would accept it as "second best." (Continued On Page Two)

Marion Talley's Court Battles Are Not Yet Over

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 20.—The court battles between songstress Marion Talley and the husband who coached her in her career are not yet over.

Despite a decision giving custody of their four-year-old daughter to the mother, Adolph G. Eckstrom, the father, is prepared to fight the ruling, his lawyer, Frank Delaney, announced today.

In a 13-page ruling referee Richard P. Lydon awarded Susan to her mother for nine months of the year. The child, may be with the father from June 15 to September 15.

"I shall apply for a hearing at which to make oral arguments opposing the decision," Delaney said.

Miss Talley was motoring today somewhere between Washington and Atlantic City, according to her counsel, John S. Keith.

Makes Speech On East Prussia
Battlefield — Says Germany Not Seeking War

(International News Service)
TANNENBERG, East Prussia, July 20.—From the battlefield where the Imperial German army annihilated the forces of Czar Nicholas in one of the World's bloodiest conflicts, General Walther Von Brauchitsch served notice today that Germany fears war less than she is seeking it.

In an obvious warning to Poland and her Anglo-French allies, the commander-in-chief of the German armies referred to alleged Polish claims to parts of East Prussia and warned that this "old German land" would remain in the Reich.

He stoutly denied, however, that Nazi Germany was seeking to provoke a conflict.

MINISTER HELD FOR RANSOM BY BANDITS

The bandits also seized his father the Rev. Jacob Goldner, but the latter was released on his promise to arrange the ransom.

BERRY PICKERS
GET CARELESS

(International News Service)
SCRANTON, Pa., July 20.—With five eastern Pennsylvania counties threatened by forest fires, forestry authorities today called upon Pennsylvania motor police to assist them by instituting an investigation into possible incendiarism.

Warning that a grave forest fire hazard exists in the Scranton district, composed of Lackawanna, Wayne, Wyoming, Susquehanna and part of Luzerne counties, because of a prolonged drought, Sheldon Campbell, Scranton district forester, appealed to Major William A. Clark in charge of the motor police third squadron, to assign 15 troopers to special duty in the forests.

Careless Persons
Campbell said an investigation of recent fires showed that they were started either deliberately by berry pickers or by lighted cigarettes thrown carelessly into the woods. More than 150 fire fighters were pressed into service during the past 24 hours to fight 23 forest fires reported in the Scranton district yesterday and last night.

On the outskirts of Wilkes-Barre, a forest fire which threatened to destroy 16 homes, was brought under control today when the wind shifted.

Polish Military Expert Arrested

(International News Service)
LONDON, July 20.—The London Daily Mail today reported from Warsaw that Colonel Sobocinski, Polish military expert attached to the staff of the Polish commissioner of Danzig, was arrested by Nazi police in the free city.

His immediate release, the newspaper indicated, will be asked by the Polish foreign office. Danzig's refusal to give up the prisoner, the dispatch stated would lead to "most serious consequences." (Continued On Page Two)

Young Fields had left his sick bed to attend the graduation exercises where he received four prizes for excellence in professional studies. He will be buried at the National cemetery at Arlington, Va., tomorrow afternoon.

Huge Crowd Sees Parade Of Lions In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 20.—With their international convention parade finally completed to the plaudits of an eager audience of some 200,000 spectators, about 15,000 Lions today looked forward to two beauty contests, one for bathing beauties the other to select the real, roaring type of Lion for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Twice postponed, the parade got off to a start last night. Featured were Lions from United States, Canada, Cuba and five other countries. Cuban Lions atop their gigantic reproduction of a locomotive, dressed in native costume, Florida Lions in splashing colors of Seminole Indian dress, Texas Lions with 10-gallon hats and high-heeled boots. Indiana Lions with straw farmers' hats and overall-bedecked and Arizona Lions firing off six-shooters were some of the many features which made the parade one of the most gaudy and wildly received of any held in the Steel City.

The parade was headed by Safety Director E. A. Farley and passed a reviewing stand containing Governor James H. Price of Virginia and Homer Holt of West Virginia as well as many other state, city and convention officials.

This afternoon Clyde Beatty famous animal tamer, will assist in judging a number of real lions to determine which one shall take the place of MGM's Leo, which died last year.

The evening will be given over to the selection of a girl to bear the title of "Miss Pennsylvania." She will then have an opportunity to enter the "Miss America" contest held annually in Atlantic City.

Ends Life

DAWN HOPE NOEL

A quarrel that resulted from a week-end party at a nudist camp near Los Angeles, was blamed for the suicide of 19-year old Dawn Hope Noel, according to police. Authorities quoted the husband, Herbert James Noel, 36, as asserting that the bride shot herself in the bedroom of their Hollywood home while he was reprimanding another guest at the nudist camp for his association with Mrs. Noel. The girl's mother, Actress Adele Hope, took her own life in New York in 1936. (Continued On Page Two)

Shaw Says Milk Producers To Get Price Adjustment

Expect Increase Will Become Effective In District
By August 1

After a long battle with the Milk Control Board of Pennsylvania the farmers who produce the milk will get a substantial adjustment in the prices they received, according to John B. Shaw, president of the Keystone Milk Producers Association of Western Pennsylvania.

In a telephone call to Mr. Shaw on Wednesday, Howard C. Eiseaman, chairman of the board said that he had placed on Gov. James' desk a recommendation that farmers be given increase of 40 cents per hundred in Class 1 milk and 25 cents per hundred in Class 2 milk.

Class 1 milk is that milk which goes into bottles and the price to the farmer for this goes up from $2.30 per hundred to $2.70 per hundred. Class 2 milk is that milk from which table cream is extracted. This goes up from $1.75 per hundred to $2.00 per hundred pounds. It is expected the governor will sign the recommendation and put it into effect August 1.

Crowd Enjoys Annual South Side Outing At Cascade Park Wednesday

Until a better one comes along, the second annual South Side community outing, held at Cascade park Wednesday afternoon, gets top billing.

Sounds of joy and contentment reverberated throughout the sylvan beauty of the park as more than 1,000 persons enjoyed the delightful program presented by the South Side Board of Trade and merchants of that locality, sponsors of the event.

For close to six hours the south sliders presented one of the best picnic programs seen at the local park in years. The contests were exciting as well as funny. Such events the fat men's race, fat women's race, potato contest and penny scrambles rocked the summer resort, so great was the laughter. The watermelon, pie eating and pop drinking contests were among the feature events, but were not staged. As the committment lined up the melons, scores of youngsters swarmed all over them. Your imagination will tell the rest. The same incident occurred in the pop drinking event.

State Strike Order May Be Rescinded

Cool Reception Accorded A.
F. Of L. Order For WPA
Strike To Cause
Move

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 20.—A cool reception given their state-wide strike call to skilled union workers on WPA in protest against new WPA regulations, today considered rescinding the strike order.

Meeting failure on every hand, strike leaders indicated that practically all hope for continuation of the strike effectively had vanished and that the strike might be terminated today.

Death-knell of the strike movement, it was believed, came late yesterday when a "direct" action protest against the WPA regulations collapsed in Philadelphia when union leaders deferred a "sympathy" work stoppage on all federal-financed projects.

Throughout the state, as WPA headquarters revealed that barely 1300 out of approximately 17,000 skilled unionists on WPA had responded to the call, it became more and more apparent that the strike was perceptibly fading. In many cities, workers who answered the call on the opening day returned to work in order to prevent violation of WPA regulations that would result in their dismissal if they remained away from their jobs for more than five days. FEAR ATTEMPTS TO

NEW ORLEANS, July 20.—Multiple investigations into charges of graft and corruption in Louisiana were fanned by the fire of increasing public indignation today as the federal government warned that it will not tolerate interference by "ward leaders" and minor politicians.

The warning came from O. John Rogge, assistant United States attorney-general, who declared with emphasis that "assisting in the concealment of crime is itself a violation of the law."

Rogge's declaration followed reports that attempts might be made to "conceal various withdrawals in the so-called 'deduct' systems." Under this system, which originated in the regime of the late Huey P. Long, state employees contribute 5 per cent of their salary to the state administration political party.

(Background note: Although the so-called "deduct" system often has been assailed in the state and out as a camouflaged method of exacting tribute from state workers to build up the machine's war chest, the political heirs of the "Kingfish" claim—as he did—that the payments are voluntary. Gov. Earl K. Long recently declared that "the records will show no employee of the state ever has lost his job because he didn't contribute to the party.")

The governor failed to add, echoed one disbeliever, that "the records will show no employee who didn't contribute."

In addition to warning that concealment was equivalent to a crime itself, Rogge said: "The federal government will prosecute with all its vigor anyone who in anyway cooperates in concealment of offenses." (Continued On Page Two)

TOKYO, July 20.—Threat of naval action against Soviet Russia in retaliation for alleged violation of Nipponese rights in the Sakhalien oil fields was voiced today by a spokesman for the Japanese ministry of marine.

He asserted that Soviet officials have prevented laborers from entering plants and keeping them from work.

Man, 62, Seeks Divorce From Wife, 29

Cruel Treatment Charge Is Made

Waukegan, Ill., Inventor Seeks Liberty From Marriage To Second Wife

ACTION FOLLOWS UPROARIOUS SCENE

(International News Service)
WAUKEGAN, Ill., July 20.—Edward A. Kleinschmidt, 62-year-old inventor, sought a divorce today from his second wife, the former Miss Marie Kaff, 29, alleging that in their two years of married life Mrs. Kleinschmidt subjected him constantly to "cruel, inhuman and abusive treatment."

Filing of the suit followed by some 24 hours an uproarious scene in the Kleinschmidt home, when Mrs. Kleinschmidt climaxed a quarrel with the inventor by drinking a bottle of bleaching fluid. Mrs. Kleinschmidt was in a hospital today recovering from the effects of the liquid.

According to Kleinschmidt's complaint, his wife's cruel treatment of him began almost immediately following their marriage on September 25, 1937. It was the second marriage for Kleinschmidt, who was one of the inventors of the Teletype machine.

The suit alleged Mrs. Kleinschmidt indulged in many fits of passion in which she used "vile and obscene language" and resorted to violence.

On one occasion, the complaint stated, Mrs. Kleinschmidt attacked her husband with a metal ash stand. Another time, it was charged, she threw a vase at Kleinschmidt in the presence of guests. Once she kicked him, the inventor charged, flying into a rage and "attempting to inflict permanent injuries."

In an attempt to change his wife's attitude, Kleinschmidt resorted, he established, in December, 1938, an irrevocable trust fund containing between $80,000 and $90,000, yielding his wife an annual income of $4,500 for life.

Barring that crisis—which the president is "praying" will not occur—he sees no point in stirring up an acrimonious debate because the country already is well advised of the position of each side of the controversy.

Differ On European Situation

It was learned that Secretary of State Hull painted a most pessimistic picture of the European outlook at the Tuesday night White House conference which resulted in finally scrapping neutrality for this session.

On the other hand, Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, leader of the isolationists, was said to have insisted he had equally good information that no crisis would develop abroad before congress re-assembles in January.

Mr. Roosevelt will head west for the San Francisco Exposition "four days after congress adjourns." This would mean a departure from Washington August 2 or 3 if Capitol Hill attains its current goal and congress quits by July 29.

First stop will be Asheville, N. C., where the president will dedicate the great Smoky Mountains National park and visit his secretary, Marvin H. McIntyre, recuperating there from an illness.

Present plans call for a direct and fast run from Asheville to San Francisco, where his second scheduled speech will be delivered at the exposition. From there the president will go to Seattle to visit his daughter, son-in-law and grandchildren, the John Boettigers, and then head up to Alaska for a very brief inspection cruise.

He says ninety per cent of the persons bitten by dogs don't have rabies, and every dog with a foaming mouth isn't mad. There is no more danger during summer months, called "dog days" than at other seasons. Of course when a person does happen to be bitten by a dog it's always best to apply an antiseptic at once and if there are any suspicious circumstances, see a physician.

It may interest you to know that Mars, the brilliant red planet seen in the southeast skies just now, will be only 36,000,000 miles away from your doorstep next Sunday. The reason for this nearness is that the earth and Mars revolve around the sun every two years or so and the earth must pass between the sun and Mars. This occurs Sunday when the planets will be closer together than at any other time. As you gaze upon the starry firmament, have you ever wondered, where is the end of space?

Consolidation of Lawrence county schools, and the abandonment of the little red school houses, has resulted in quite a number of them being turned into residences. A very good example of what can be done with a school house is to be seen on the road leading from Highland Heights to Walpole, where a school house has been transformed into a very modern looking residence.

Passing through the city last night was a car with a Michigan license, carrying six passengers and loaded "full to the gills" with bag and baggage. Several packages were also tied on the outside front and rear of the car, while a fishing rod had been secured on the left side and attached to this was an evident old worn out hat, for which the vacationers could possibly find no space for in the vehicle.

Distinctive types of manual labor are always interesting and eye catching to those persons who are not acquainted with the trade; such was the case Tuesday, late afternoon, of a man, who was replacing a large sheet of glass in a shop window on Atlantic avenue and who had attracted a watchful group of neighborhood citizens assembled around the outside of the store, gazing at the precise handling of the window glass.

See Business Upswing In U. S.

Government Business Barometers Reflect Trend Is Upward

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 20.—For the second consecutive day, government business barometers showed new indications of a substantial upswing today.

Following five favorable recovery developments cited by commerce department and federal reserve officials yesterday, Postmaster General Farley announced that the postal service closed the fiscal year June 30 with a $10,000,000 operating surplus.

Postal receipts—usually a reliable indicator of business trends—currently point to "a sharp upward trend in general prosperity" Farley said.

At the same time, Aubrey Williams, head of the National Youth administration, reported that NYA Junior employment services found positions in industry in June for more than 10,000 young people—a new high and 105 per cent greater than placements last year.

Postal receipts for the fiscal year just ended totaled $745,098,350, highest in history and $17,000,000 above the previous year according to Farley.

(Background note: At the closed hearing the only "outsiders" in attendance are 18 newsmen. Since the Leppold threat, authorities have placed a "double check" on newspapermen permitted to land at Angel Island.)

"Beef Squad" Member Present
"Two days ago," Inspector Page related, "this beef squad member, who was sent out from New York City, eased his way to Leppold in the crowded hearing room and said 'take it easy or—' Leppold later said he was nearly scared to death. No wonder he was so shaky on the stand."

The "reporter"—built like a prizefighter—made his first and only appearance at the hearing the day

JUST WHAT IS WAR NOW-A-DAYS!

REPORTS from the Orient indicate that the Japanese and Russian armies are going to it again, with air bombers being shot down in numbers. Of course, it isn't war. There are no formal wars in this era of Kellogg-Briand enlightenment.

All this makes it appear that, in the event of an actual European outbreak, the United States will have to do its own picking of belligerents under the terms of any Neutrality Act.

What these undeclared wars augur for the future of international law is indeed baffling. When Italy seized Ethiopia, when Germany grabbed Czechoslovakia and when Japan invaded China, other powers were at a loss to know how to proceed for the simple reason that the respective actions were so out of harmony with the previously recognized law of nations.

Power politics and rampant nationalism apparently are radically changing the entire modus operandi of military policy. And this suggests that the ideal of world stability has become even more visionary than it has been throughout the historic past.

THE WRONG WAY AND THE RIGHT WAY

For two years after his unprecedented non-stop flight to Paris, Charles A. Lindbergh was the romantic idol of women the world over, and when he married Anne Morrow, many feminine dreams had to be put away in mothballs. For a time after the equally attractive and engaging Douglas Corrigan took off for California, and through a tongue-in-cheek miscalculation landed in Ireland, he seemed to evoke similar heart-throbs in many communities.

Now he, too, has married, but since he wed his childhood sweetheart in Texas, maidenly mourning elsewhere will be modified by a recognition of the appropriate. True, there was a brief flurry when the wrong-way flier, winging to his wedding, was over-due and being looked for in Montana, Florida and Quebec, but this was to be expected of compass-less Corrigan.

Some grouchy matrimonial veteran may mutter that, now married, all his orders will be extremely definite, but perhaps that is just another "wrong way" to look at it.

ANOTHER REASON AGAINST THIRD TERM

The prime argument against a third term is that no man, as chief executive of this republic, should have power to shape the course of the nation for more than eight years, which was the length of the term of office of such national heroes as Washington, Jefferson and Jackson.

But the fact has been mentioned that, if given another term of office, making twelve years in all, President Roosevelt would be shaping the future of the country for a generation after that time. The reason for this is Mr. Roosevelt's well known proclivity for appointing to the courts, justices who believe particularly in his own brand of so-called New Deal democracy. He has already made many appointments of this kind and, if given four years longer, would virtually have remolded most of the higher courts of the country in line with his own wishes. And these justices would hold office long after Mr. Roosevelt had retired.

Along this line it may be well to quote a statement made recently by Lawrence Phillips, Jr., son of the illustrious former Senator Phillips of Colorado. Mr. Phillips said:

"No man should have the power to appoint members of all the federal courts of this country for so long a period as twelve years. To me that is one unanswerable argument why no man should be President for three terms."

"The President has the power to fill all vacancies on all the federal benches of the nation from the lowest to the highest. There are many changes in all of the various branches of the judiciary in four years. There are a great many more vacancies to be filled in eight years. I believe the sentiment of the nation is that eight years is long enough to give any one man the power to fill those judicial positions with men of his own beliefs, no matter how good his intentions. But to allow one man to name all of the federal judges for a period of twelve years and to load the courts with men of his own theories during that period of time does not make for an impartial judiciary which is a fundamental principle of freedom. We could not avoid an element of lopsidedness in the personal beliefs of the members of the court. I do not believe the American people will ever give one man twelve years in the White House for that very reason alone."

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Clyde Beatty, that sinewy and slim young man who lies down with lions and persuades them to be lambs, has started a school. He means to teach other sinewy and slim young men how to go through the same hair-breath performance and emerge laughingly—whole as to skin and pants. He has opened the Clyde Beatty Lion-Taming School in A'ntic City. So now you can in A'ntic City say, "That's just the surf," when you hear a great roaring heard by the big Atlantic reef. More likely it will be a four-legged African man-eater named Ethel jumping rebelliously through a hoop at the barking command of a Clyde Beatty pupil.

Even in the tough times that are upon us it seems impossible that the lion-conquering Beatty could have found any pupils, but as a matter of fact he has found quite a few. Eleven signed up when school opened and ever since he has been saying "No" three or four times every day.

If he is a wise man Beatty says no more than "No," at least in the presence of his pupils. He ought not, for instance, to say a word about what happened to him in Peru, Indiana, one January evening in 1932. But the newspapers do. "Nero," the newspapers tell us, "an African lion, attacked Clyde Beatty, wild animal trainer, last night and today Mr. Beatty is in the hospital, critically hurt. Nero bit Beatty on the leg and infection has already set in."

He should leave it to the newspapers to tell about the time that black-maned Sampson knocked him across a forty-foot arena, broke three or four ribs and might well have broken the frail thread on which any lion tamer's life must hang, if a few assistants hadn't rushed up with chairs and prodding poles. And he had best forget to say anything about Nigger, who turned like the tiger she was, one evening in the New York Hippodrome, and flattened him with a single paw-sweep.

The odds, however, are that Beatty won't forget. He is almost certain to tell all, because it is his stubborn conviction that such stories go to show how safe his profession is. Practically, no danger at all, he insists; or at least very little, and less than that if your outlook is good. Plenty of clear thinkers might sensibly choose to rely less on footwork than a nice stout iron grill, but so far as Beatty is concerned footwork is the only essential. Watching his act you will notice

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

RESPECT CHILD'S POSSESSIONS

We want our children to learn to feel and exercise a high regard for the rights and possessions of others. But how much regard for his rights and possessions have we revealed in our living with them day by day, month by month, year by year?

Would you use the crayons of your three-year-old without first getting his permission? Would you read a letter addressed to him before he had the opportunity to ask you to do so? Would you lend the toys of your child while he is at school to a visiting younger child to mar or destroy? Would you destroy the creative work, however crude, that your child of six or ten had left?

Surely you would not think of opening the letters of your child old enough to read; and you would rather go to jail, I hope, than to be guilty of peeping into your daughter's diary.

Something More
There's something more to be gained than just respect for our possessions when we regularly respect theirs. It is something that transcends material things. And how delightful it is to live in a family where everyone trusts completely everybody else there. There's no occasion then for doubt about mutual affection.

Mrs. Myers and I readily admit that we have done many things not so good in relation to our children—and I have been the worse offender, as you might suppose. But we are proud that we have succeeded pretty well in practicing the ideal held forth in this article. And the dividends we have been clipping on this investment are many.

We cannot recall a single instance when any one of our children opened our mail (unless we asked him to); nor can we recall that we ever asked them not to do so. Neither can we recall a single instance when we ever opened theirs except by mistake. Even when a letter comes addressed to one of the children from either parent while away from home, the other parent would not open that letter. This just happens to be the way we do in our family. We like it and our children say they like it, too.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WHAT IS A WAR?
You would think these poor Russians would never go near a Japanese again. I see that the very well advertised Domei News Agency of Tokyo puts on the Wire from Japan to day that so many intrepid Japanese airmen went out and shot down fifty or so invading Russian planes. Recently the agency added information, admitting that five Japanese planes did not come home. That was the first time the Domei has admitted anything so terrible as that. It is the kind of news service that might seriously report the death of Santa Claus or that the end of the world came day before yesterday, but a Japanese loss—never!

It is interesting also to read the reports that come from news agencies in Moscow. The figures are just reversed, and there seems to be no middle ground in which the innocent bystander can figure just what is going on in the Manchurian Front. And there is no War declared against China by Japan and no War declared by either the Japanese or Russians.

What is a War, anyway?

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

A CHILD WONDERS
These are things we cannot see:
Fairies near the apple tree.
Still we know that they must be.

These are sounds we cannot hear:
Fairy voices, silver clear.
Yet sometimes they seem so near.

Sometimes not so very far
Out of reach seem moon and star
And the world where fairies are.

Should we say there cannot be
Fairies near the apple tree
Just because we cannot see?

Should we say no one is near
Singing sweetly, silver clear,
Just because we cannot hear?

Public officials are a great asset in building up a city if they have the ability to do the things that should be done. When you think of candidates for office take that into consideration.

It looks as if the foreign nations are getting scared enough to think about paying this country the war debts they owe us. It's sort of a delicate matter to ask people to lend them more money after they have refused and ignored what they already owe.

Answer—Dining room furniture is usually sold in suites. If you know enough about furniture you may select individual pieces, but they must be harmonious.

They should include a table, of course, two arm chairs and four or six side chairs according to your needs, a sideboard, china closet and serving table.

Flanking it were photographs of my hostess and her spouse taken during their honeymoon at Niagara Falls during the Gay Nineties, and a group of their three children, who, with raucous in hand, were standing in front of a tennis net.

The South Sea Islander was visiting in England and on being entertained at a big affair was called on to speak.

"How is that?" asked the surprised toastmaster.
"Oh, my ancestors ate so many of yours," was the smiling reply.

The southern major and colonel met each other after a long time apart and naturally drank each other's health somewhat to excess. Next morning the pair met on the street again.

"I feel like thunder, sub just like any gentleman should at this time of the day," replied the colonel.

Scandinavians To Stay Neutral
Determined To Keep Out Of War
Belgium And Switzerland Trapped

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

The Scandinavians are among the little democracies that don't want to have their respective independencies guaranteed by the big democracies. State departmental officialdom sees why, too. In the event of a war between the totalitarian and democratic crowds they decidedly prefer to remain neutral. Their sympathies will be democratic, to be sure. However, they certainly will not care to be involved in any of the fighting. Being off on the edge of prospectively belligerent territory, they think they will stand a good chance of keeping out of it unless some such thing as a democratic guarantee seems to align them against the autocracies.

Belgium and Switzerland are different. They're bound to be caught in between the conflicting groups if there's a clash, thus being stepped on by both sides—as Belgium was in the last war.

Holland is precariously situated also. True, it's only on the German fringe, but Hitler is sure to desire Dutch ports from which to operate with U-boats across the narrow North sea against Britain. Therefore the Netherlands are not averse to accepting whatever help they can get from the major democratic nations.

Poland and the Balkan states inevitably will be mixed up in whatever jam may eventuate and will need all the help they can get, one way or the other.

Norway And Sweden
Norway and Sweden, though, are not actually adjacent to any foreign power that either one is afraid of.

It happens that I was in Scandinavia early in the world struggle. Norway wasn't a bit worried. It has an Atlantic coast line from which its ships could get to anywhere on earth with but the barest chance of interference. By water Sweden is corked up in the Baltic. Nevertheless it could do overseas business by rail across Norway. This method was somewhat unhandy. To offset that the Swedes were doing a ripping good trade with Germany. Sentimentally they liked the Allies slightly better than they did the Germans, but that didn't keep them from scooping in all the German money they could.

All in all, world wars aren't an unmitigated curse to Norway or Sweden—provided they can stop interfering outsiders from guaranteeing their respective independencies unrequitedly.

Denmark's position is distinctly more billious than Norway's or Sweden's.

Only an imaginary line (no salt water) separates Danish and German soil. The Germans can slip over into Denmark whenever they feel like it—and it would take a lot of democratic guarantees to counteract that damage that the Hitlerites would be apt to do there in short order.

The Danes' best guarantee is that the Germans, once in Denmark, couldn't easily get out again except by water, or back home again into Germany.

World War Experiences
Well, as previously remarked when I was in World War Scandinavia, Norway was as unperturbed as the United States was at that stage of the game. Sweden was making a good thing out of the muck, Denmark was uneasy. Holland (which isn't Scandinavian) was downright jittery, and Belgium (when I got there) was a battlefield.

Today Finland rates as Scandinavian. At the time I'm speaking of it was Russian—now independent.

In those days the czar wanted a slice of Russian-Finland across the coast of the Arctic ocean, from St. Petersburg to the Norwegians' Atlantic port of Narvik—a czarist grab from Arctic Sweden and Norway.

It didn't work.
Sweden and Norway were lucky in staying neutral that time.

Now's another time that they want to stay neutral.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES—Assistant Secretary of War Louis A. Johnson is satisfied with American air preparation.

"We'll meet any nation in military aircraft performance."

NEW YORK—Mayor F. H. La Guardia hails training for city employees.

Only in the last few years has it been recognized that municipal government is a science."

WASHINGTON—J. J. Pelley, president of the American Association of Railroads, endorses a federal loan plan for their rehabilitation.

"I don't know of any way we could help the railroads more than to enable them to retire their debts at something like 30 cents on the dollar."

CINCINNATI—Harold G. Moulton, president of Brookings Institute, views recovery pessimistically.

"The truth is we are as far from solution of basic economic problems as ever."

—BUY IN NEW CASTLE—

AN OLD ONE
A young Indian, suddenly "oil-rich," bought a $5,000 automobile and drove away. The next day he was back at the agency, footsore and with his head bashed. This was his explanation:

"Drive big car; step on gas; trees, fences go by; hear fast, pretty soon see big bridge coming down road. Turn out to be bridge go by. Bang! Car gone! Gimme 'nother one."

There are phases of the situation not funny at all. No one wants to laugh at the plight in which many of the deluded followers of these men now find themselves. Nevertheless, the spectacle of these solemn and self-important individuals instigating a strike of those on the relief rolls was too absurd not to make them personally ridiculous. It was as though a truculent group of neighbors came to a hard-pressed man who, to the limit of his ability, had been supporting a needy relative, and said, "Look here, if you won't do better than this we won't let you support him any more."

It is hard to think that, after the exhibition which they have given, the general public again will regard these leaders as sensible and responsible persons or that the belief of the union rank and file in the alleged shrewdness of their leadership will be the same. It is as clear as a case of leading a blind alley an act occurred. The whole business argues an unusual degree of mental thickness. It is true that for a long time one set of these factional labor leaders has been denouncing the other set as dumb-bells and the rival faction has retorted with the elegant allegation of "no brains."

Their conduct in this instance would seem to indicate they were both right. Consider, for example, a few of the facts. First, it is as clear as a case of leading a blind alley an act occurred. The whole business argues an unusual degree of mental thickness. It is true that for a long time one set of these factional labor leaders has been denouncing the other set as dumb-bells and the rival faction has retorted with the elegant allegation of "no brains."

There with a whip, a revolver loaded with blanks, a chair and a few assistants safely outside the cage, he makes lions and tigers do things that any self-respecting lion or tiger ought to be ashamed to do at the command of such a little fellow.

Beatty is only five feet, six inches tall, and weighs a bare one hundred and fifty. More than likely half of his pupils could butter him like a piece of toast and swallow him whole. More than likely they are saying:

"Well! If that half-pint can make lions talk turkey, so can I."

To all the Beatty undergraduates this column wishes the finest of footwork and luck. But it fears for them. Besides all the normal hazards of their curriculum they are too near the sea. It could be that one of them will end up even as King'sley's turnip.

Lutherans Picnic
In Cascade Park

Cascade Park was the scene of another large picnic Wednesday afternoon and evening. St. Paul's Lutheran church congregation and Sunday school met there for their annual outing and they had a big time.

Dinner was served at 6 o'clock. Two hundred forty participated. Loyal Daugherty, with W. J. Knobloch, Bob Morgan and A. C. Chamberlain, did a fine job of arranging for the program of games, starting out with a grand peanut grab in which everyone laughingly took part. Mrs. David Brest was the very efficient dinner committee chairman.

One Day Protest
At Some Projects

As far as could be learned late this morning, only a part of the workers on two projects in Lawrence county heeded the call for a one-day protest ordered by the Workers' Alliance here today.

It was stated by Walter M. Todd, district manager of the Works Progress Administration here, that approximately 50 men failed to report for work on a road project in Mahoning township, while approximately the same number of men at the Sewage Disposal Plant failed to report this morning.

All other projects were reported as working as usual.

Neutrality laws are like humane rules of warfare. They solve the problem nicely while nobody is mad at anybody.

BETTER FURNITURE FOR LESS SINCE 1875Michigan Governor
Chides Mrs. Roosevelt
On Drinking Advice

(International News Service) LANSING, Mich., July 20.—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the president, was mildly chided by Michigan's 80-year-old Governor Luren D. Dickinson today for her advice to girls to learn moderate drinking habits.

The governor, amplifying his recent attacks on "liquor and sin," last night quoted Mrs. Roosevelt as saying:

"The average girl of today faces the problem of learning very young how much she can drink of such things as whiskey, gin and so forth and sticking to the proper quantity."

After quoting Mrs. Roosevelt, the governor returned to the discussion of "modern drinkers" he saw at the recent conference of governors in New York and said:

"These ladies and men that I saw drinking were not intoxicated, as might be inferred. Why? I do not know, unless it might be that they learned the formula advised by a prominent lady of our nation just before liquors came back after prohibition, when she made the statement to young girls who would avoid being called prigs."

More Precautions Will Be Employed By Rescue Planes

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 20.—Stricter precautions in the use of Coast Guard hospital planes for rescue service at sea may be inaugurated, it was indicated today, as a result of the crash of the V-164 last Saturday with a loss of three lives.

Lieut. Watson A. Burton, commander of the Coast Guard station at Floyd Bennett Field, asserted at a hearing before a formal board of inquiry, that he doubted whether the hazard involved in such operations was justified.

"In the majority of cases," he said, "it is later found the patient was not as sick as reported."

Burton also testified that although Lieut. William Lee Clemmer, pilot of the ill-fated plane, had 2,000 hours in the air, he had only 13 hours experience with planes of the V-164 type and had never made a sea landing with one.

Walter B. Salter, a mechanic, vigorously denied there was any blast before the crash, as witnesses aboard the ship Atlantis from which an ill seaman was being removed had stated.

SEE PURGE OF FARLEY, AS M'NUTT NOMINATION RESULT

The beginning of an effort to "purge" Postmaster General James A. Farley from President Roosevelt's cabinet, is seen in certain Washington circles as a result of the nomination of Paul V. McNutt, high commissioner of the Philippines, as federal security administrator. The appointment of McNutt is seen as a slap at Farley, foe of McNutt.

An attempt will be made, according to the same Washington sources, to drive Farley from the Democratic national chairmanship, replacing him with Joseph P. Kennedy, now ambassador at the Court of St. James (Great Britain).

Says German People Will Probably Cause Downfall Of Hitler

(International News Service)
HANOVER N. H., July 20. The German people themselves, and not any combination of world powers, probably will cause Hitler's downfall, former undersecretary of state William R. Castle declared today in urging the United States to keep "hands off" the explosive European situation.

Addressing a three-day conference on "politics and the public conscience," Castle asserted that passage of neutrality legislation desired by the administration would "really mark the setting up of an American dictatorship" and "the final degradation of congress."

Grand Hatch This Year At Jordan Game Farm

Thirty-five thousand three hundred, seventy-eight ringnecked pheasants were hatched this summer on the 325-acre pheasantry near Harlansburg—the Jordan State Game Farm.

That is a huge number of chicks, whether you count the rings or the bills, a grand hatch, the grandest ever, and once again the Jordan Farm shows the sportsman of the Commonwealth just what it can do.

The loss in chicks was very low. For instance, from the first fill of the brooders (12,384) there was a loss of just 318 chicks. That is an unusually low percentage for these birds, who have been domesticated through the ages, but offspring of game birds who have laid and hatched their eggs in the wild since that day the first ringnecked egg produced the first ringneck.

Hatch Chinese Chicks

Hatching is over for this year, the last having been on July 9. Of the total birds, 9,015 were shipped from the farms of various parts of the state, for release under official supervision and 2,033 purebred Chinese day old chicks (a strain of ring-necked pheasants) were shipped upon request to other game farms. So at present there are 24,330 chicks in the Jordan Farm brooder fields. Shipments are being continued.

Total eggs produced was 47,376, some were packed and shipped to various parts of the state for outside hatching, and release at the proper time.

Somehow or other, Superintendent K. N. Brenneman and his small corps of helpers have been able to find the time to sow and harvest several fields of grain. They get 800 bushels but that is of course not nearly enough to carry the birds through the winter, and much of the feed must be bought.

A state game farm such as that in Lawrence County is not the taxpayer's baby and he doesn't have to foot the bills. The sportsmen of the state pay all expenses by purchasing hunting licenses, and what's more, they like it. A game farm means constant restocking of game on happy, unposted hunting grounds.

Portrait Is Gift To Library Here

Likeness Of Colonel Daniel Leasure To Be Placed In Pennsylvania Room

Through the courtesy of D. L. Raymond, of Minneapolis, the New Castle Public Library has acquired a portrait of Colonel Daniel Leasure. Colonel Leasure was a practicing physician in this city at the opening of the Civil War.

Colonel Leasure had served in the militia, and at the opening of the Civil War, he raised a company. At the close of the three month's term, he was authorized to raise a veteran regiment.

After the war, Colonel Leasure resumed his medical profession in New Castle, later moving to Allegheny. On his death his body was returned to New Castle and is buried in Greenwood cemetery. Mr. Raymond is a grandson of Colonel Leasure.

According to Miss Alice Sterling, librarian, the portrait will be hung in the Pennsylvania room of the library.

AROUND CITY HALL

Tax collection this year is as good if not heavier than last year, City Treasurer C. C. McKibben stated today. He also said this is the last month during which 1939 school taxes may be paid at a discount of one per cent. There already is a one per cent penalty on 1939 city taxes. McKibben anticipates large corporations will pay 1939 school taxes this month to save one per cent.

Huron avenue has been opened to traffic, likewise Electric street, according to attaches of the city engineering department. Both were paved. A steam shovel started excavating Wednesday in Erie avenue preparatory to paving. Stone is being placed for a paving base in Delaware avenue, curbs already having been set. Amblette is being poured in Blaine street and work is under way on sidewalk projects.

Attaches of the city engineers department said today that persons who want new sidewalks should apply immediately at that department. The cost is 16 cents per square foot. This covers the expenditures for materials, they added.

Members of city council viewed Walnut street for the purpose of arranging the curb in that street which is being resurfaced so that water pools will be eliminated.

Last collection of parking fees amounted to $762.10. This was paid by motorists during a nine day period. The parking deposits will be collected again Monday, police bureau attaches said today.

What it takes to get ready for a picnic, the Lincoln-Garfield Association has and the plans for this year's picnic at Lakewood on Sunday afternoon, July 23, are complete according to the president, David T. Nelson.

Invitations have been sent to former students of the Lincoln-Garfield School within a radius of 100 miles and if the picnic follows its usual form there will be a host of visitors present.

The picnic will start early in the afternoon and a bus will be stationed at the end of the Croton bus line to haul members without their own cars.

The usual long list of races and games are scheduled with a picnic dinner topping off the day. A few speeches may be made but they will be short and to the point.

An order of distribution of funds amounting to $2,133.66 in the hands of Mrs. Margaret Dunn, executrix in the estate of the late William G. Dunn, was made by Judge Thomas W. Dickey today. There was also included in the order a list of stocks which are to be distributed to the heirs, according to an agreement.

Pedestals for two electric lights at the top of the steps leading to the court house are to be erected. Workmen are now making excavations for a pipe to contain the wires. The pedestals will be beside two evergreen trees, which were planted for decorative purposes at Christmas.

Judge Thomas W. Dickey will hold a session of court on Friday morning at which pleas will be received from any prisoners in the county jail, and sentence passed. Desertion and non-support cases will be heard and orders made on any petitions presented.

In the case of the Commonwealth against Michael Miller, defendant has presented a petition, asking for the abatement of an order of court. Miller is the father of Wallace Miller. Mary Miller, former wife of defendant, had him charged with non-support of Wallace Miller, and in March, 1938, an order was made directing Miller to pay $20 per month. Wallace was then 16 years old, is now 17, and defendant believes there should be some change in the allowance. Hearing will be held on July 28.

Under the will of the late T. L. Montgomery, which has been probated at the register and recorder's office, decedent leaves his property to his wife, Myrtle Montgomery for life. At her death the house and lot used as a residence is to go to a daughter, Hazel Montgomery. Remainder of decedent's property is to be equally divided among the children, Mrs. Rachael Davis, Mrs. Margaret Alexander, Hazel Montgomery and Charles Montgomery.

No opposition to the local option petitions filed here has been made so far by the liquor dealers of the county. In some counties opposition has been voiced on the grounds that the petitions did not contain the required number of names, but it is believed that all of the petitions filed in Lawrence county meet that requirement.

County commissioners were in Washington township yesterday viewing a farm over which there is some controversy over the assessment and back taxes which are due.

The late John Hoon leaves all his property to his wife, in his will which has been probated at the office of Register and Recorder Orville Potter. At her death it is to go to surviving children. Mrs. Hoon is named as executrix.

Only a little over a week remains during which the discount can be secured on 1939 county and poor taxes. On August first taxes will be payable at face value.

Old Timers Day Cascade Park, Wednesday, August 16, 1939.

The Erie extension canal was completed from New Castle to Erie in February, 1845, and boats started running through the following spring.

The first market in New Castle was opened in May, 1846, and the first market house, a brick 70x30 feet, was built in the summer of the same year, and stood in the center of the Diamond.

Many improvements were made during the season of 1846. R. W. Cunningham erected a large cupola foundry with a steam engine attached. Crawford & Co. built a new nail factory.

The first daguerrean gallery was established here in 1847 by Richmond & Pomeroy.

Rev. Robert Audrey Browne came to Lawrence county in 1846 and was for many years prominent, not only in church, but also in the political world. He was a United Presbyterian and chaplain of the 100th Regiment, known as the "Pennsylvania Roundheads." Rebecca Browne survives him, as well as Robert Browne, Oil City, and Mary and Grace, granddaughters.

Mrs. Eliza Tenbroeck, the grandmother of James M. Smith, came here in 1847. She was a music teacher, well known in early musical circles of New Castle, and owned the first piano in the city.

Dr. J. H. M. Peebles came to New Castle in 1848, and he and D. B. Kurtz, the attorney, had offices together. He was a popular doctor, enjoyed a large practice among the prominent families of the city, and interested in all phases of our community life. His son, Dr. H. Peebles, succeeded him in the business, and had his office at the corner of North and Mercer streets, where the public library now stands. Mrs. Effie Peebles Kirk, the daughter of Dr. J. H. Peebles, is one of our most highly esteemed ladies, and she has always been identified with civic movements for the good of New

How Taxpayers Money Is Being Spent In Alaska

Frank L. Fay Tells What He Found During Recent Tour Of Country

Alaska, which has a population of 65,000, considerably less than Lawrence county, seems to be getting a big share of government money, according to Frank L. Fay, a Greenville, Pa., citizen, just returned, and interviewed by J. L. Morrison, editor of the Greenville Record-Arrow.

The town of Anchorage, population, 3,000, is getting a $1,000,000 community building. Ketchikan, another small village, is listed for a $45,000 federal building; Wrangell, claiming but 875 population, is getting a $280,000 post office.

Uncle Sam has a re-settlement project in Alaska that is also eating up the taxpayers money. The settlers are hedged about with all sorts of restrictions. There is one federal supervisor to every two farms. There are 140 farms in the re-settlement area and 70 supervisors.

There are eight months of winter up in that country and vastly better land can be had right here at home, close to markets and civilization. Few people realize the size of Alaska. If set down upon the United States it would cover New England, extend down to Georgia, thence west to beyond the Mississippi river and up to the Canadian border. Gold mining and fish canning are the principal industries.

State's Orchard Crop Very Fine Survey Reveals

Will Be Finest For Several Seasons, Corn Is Ripening Very Fast Now

JAPANESE BEETLE DOING SOME DAMAGE

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—Pennsylvania's orchard crop this year is expected to be the finest in several seasons, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported today in its weekly summary of crop and weather conditions in the state.

"Orchard crops continue fair to good in most regions," the report said. "Early apples are coming to market and are generally of good quality. All orchard fruits are better than last year."

"The cherry crop promises nearly twice the yield of last year; grapes about 50 per cent more; peaches about a third more, and the outlook for late apples is the best in the last three or four years."

Lack of rain, however, is threatening other crops in most sections of the state, the summary said. Only a few "good local showers" were reported for the week, and they occurred chiefly in southwestern counties "where the need was least."

Corn Is Ripening
"Corn is mostly tasseled in the southern counties and ears are forming," the report continued. "The Japanese beetle is doing some damage, but otherwise the crop is mostly in good condition."

"Threshing of winter wheat and rye continues. Yields are generally fair to good. Oats are ripening rapidly on short straw and promise little better than half a crop."

"Pastures and meadows are getting short and showing the need for moisture. In general they need good, soaking rains. The second crop of alfalfa is being cut and in some places it is better than the first crop. Timothy and clover will be light in yield for the second crop."

"Early potatoes are fair to good and are nearly ready for dipping in the southern counties. The late crop has improved in many sections. Truck crops and vegetables are generally only fair. Sweet corn is beginning to come to market, and tomatoes are ripening. Tobacco is making fair progress, but generally needs rain."

The pool is absolutely safe, the water being pumped from the Shenango river nearby, to the built in pool, and the water is passed through the filtration plant and is kept flowing in and out of the pool continuously but with no great volume, just as the pool at New Wilmington."

Every doctor is something of a detective.

Making a physical examination tests his skill at detection.

His search for clues begins at first meeting.

General appearance and facial expression may give clues.

Pain, worry, bad breath, exhaustion may be evident at sight.

Appearance of skin, gait, weight—all aid in final check.

Voice, mannerisms, mental alertness indicate much.

First impressions are confirmed by further investigation.

Inspection, palpitation, percussion and auscultation are used.

Inspection is of the skin, hair and nails.

Auscultation is listening with and without instruments.

Closing the week-long convention of Lions International in Pittsburgh, the band meet, expected to draw thousands to the huge stadium, will attract some of the outstanding musical organizations of the nation.

Last night the local outfit, representing the Perry S. Gaston Post 343, went through a last-minute work-out rehearsal up on Boyles field. The band did not appear in Pittsburgh's big Lions parade last night.

SCRUPULOUS CLEANLINESS NECESSARY TO COMBAT SUMMER DIARRHEA

Yesterday we discussed the mild form of summer diarrhea which affects babies; today we will go on to the more serious kind which every year claims so many lives. This kind of illness is due to some infection which the baby gets, very often in the food, on the nipples or bottles with which he is fed. One of the first things to do is to make sure that the bottles and nipples are sterilized always, and that the milk he is going to be fed has no chance to become contaminated before it is put into the containers.

These simple rules should be followed all year, but during summer precautions should be doubled for the chances of infection are then increased. It has never been entirely proved that flies are the chief factors in the spread of this infection but the evidence against them is very strong.

You have only to see how the height of the diarrhea epidemics always come in the height of the fly season to realize what goes on. You can also see quite easily how these creatures, with their hairy legs, carry the infection by lighting on the bottle and walking over the nipple just before he is fed. Another indication that flies are the chief offenders in the spread of this type of diarrhea is that I have noticed how much more common it is in homes where there is no special steps taken to keep flies outside.

The death rate used to be much too high in this part of the country from this disease. I went around everywhere preaching to the mothers that diarrhea comes from dirt and flies. As soon as I would get a case of it I would immediately see that the flies were eliminated and that all the milk used was boiled.

Now I don't see as many cases of diarrhea as I used to and the reason is simply that the people have learned how important it is to keep the flies outside. I cannot remember a single case in all the hundreds of cases of diarrhea I have treated when flies were not present in the home.

When this kind of diarrhea afflicts your baby you will find that the symptoms develop much more rapidly than in the first type I mentioned. Your child will be perfectly well and healthy one day; the next he is sick, vomiting every time he takes anything by his mouth and passing a lot of watery stools. It is quite likely that they will contain traces of blood. Sometimes this blood will only be a stain on the diaper, but too often the blood will be there in large quantities.

If your baby develops these symptoms, lose no time in calling your doctor, for unless he is treated promptly he is likely to lose his life from the extremely rapid loss of water from both bowels and mouth. The prevention is simple. Any house in which the baby lives should be well-screened, to prevent flies. The bottles and the nipples should be kept clean and sterilized, and the milk ought to be boiled before it is used. Milk that is boiled for the child must be kept covered until feeding time, to make sure that no contagion gets to them.

It isn't hard to see the advantage of breast feeding when it comes to the matter of preventing summer diarrhea, for it is almost impossible for breast milk to become contaminated. As a matter of fact, analyses of the figures on this infection show that infection is almost entirely confined to bottle-fed babies. Even so, the mother of a breast-fed child must take care to see that her infant doesn't come into contact with another baby who is suffering from the infection. If he does, then he is likely to fall a victim.

Public Assistance Employees Must Resign If They Want To Run For Public Office

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 20.—Employees of the department of public assistance with political ambitions were warned today that they must resign their jobs if they desire to become candidates for public office. The employment board of the department called attention to a ruling providing that "no employee may be a member of a political committee or an officer of a political organization, nor may he solicit or receive contributions for political purposes."

"It is definitely contrary to public policy and the best civil service practice," the board ruled, "to permit employees to engage in political activity."

"In fact, we have made every effort to discourage any political-mindedness on the part of civil service employees, and in line with this policy we will insist that employees leave the service if they desire to seek public office."

The department of public assistance, the board ruling said, was set up by law as a civil service agency. The decision extends to employees of county assistance boards as well as those at state headquarters.

Condition Of Blast Victim Is Critical

No Improvement Is Shown In Condition Of John Cain,
Of R. F. D. No. 5

It was reported at the Jameson Memorial hospital, that the condition of John Cain, of R. F. D. No. 5, who was badly burned in an explosion of gas in a sewer trench on North Mercer street, last Friday, has become critical, and that he had a poor night. The condition of Arthur Weaver, of Locust street, is still rated as serious and it is said that he also had a poor night.

The blast was a mysterious one and has never been fully accounted for. Tests were conducted by City Engineer Glen R. Throop and officials of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company to determine if there were any leaks from gas mains in that vicinity and none was found. Tests were also made to determine if any sewer gas was present and none was found.

Samples of the earth in the sewer trench have been taken and sent to the Bureau of Mines to determine if there was anything in the earth which would generate an explosive gas.

The explosion occurred when a lantern was handed down to one of the men in the trench who was going to enter the sewer pipe to do some work. The trench is about 25 feet deep at this point it is stated.

Business Gains Being Forecast

Third Quarter Of Year
Should Show Marked Improvement Is Report

ADVISERS CITE
FIVE OF FACTORS

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Moderate gains in business and a corresponding rise in national income during the next two months were forecast today in commerce department and federal reserve board circles.

Economic advisers to Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins revealed that on the basis of various surveys, the third quarter of this year should show a marked business improvement over the January-June period.

Important Factors

These advisers cited five important factors contributing to the current industrial advance, including:

1. Continuation of high government expenditures.
2. Building activity reaches a seasonal peak during summer months.
3. Farm purchasing power is holding up well.
4. Improvement in urban purchasing power.
5. Scattered building up of inventories by business firms.

Commerce department and federal reserve economists would not comment on the stock market rise of the past two days. They said privately, however, that the market has trailed general business conditions for some time.

Preliminary commerce department estimates place the current national income payment rate at approximately $66,000,000,000 per year. This compares with a rate of $64,200,000,000 for 1938 and $69,000,000,000 for 1937.

Index Is Up
July industrial production has pushed the federal reserve board's index for this activity up to 94 per cent of 1923-25 averages. Board economists, while confident of mild improvement in business during the balance of the year, were pessimistic regarding any major upswing. They pointed to the large number of unemployed and the failure of widespread inventory buying by business as major obstacles to any substantial upward movement.

Commerce department surveys showed that construction contract awards and actual building operations currently are as large, if not larger, than during the same period in 1937.

General merchandise unit sales, exclusive of luxury items and allowing for price changes, are on par with the movement of such goods to consumers in the summer of 1937, the surveys indicated. Durable goods sales, however, are lower.

The commerce experts believe that the business gains realized since the end of the bituminous coal strike will be maintained for the remainder of this quarter.

Good Games In City Baseball League Tonight

Columbus Club Meets League Leading Lawrence Indies At Cedar Street

SLOVAKS-ELDERS AT CLIFTON FLATS

There are several choice ball games tonight in the City Baseball league that the fans can enjoy. The league leading Lawrence Indies and Columbus Club will tangle at the Cedar street field at 5:45 o'clock.

Manager Mike Orlando will use his ace "Monk" Rainey on the hill in an effort to upset the Indies winning streak that has lasted for four straight games. Manager Zidow will use either Paul Coates or Majocha on the rubber.

Elders At Slovaks Another fine game will occur at Clifton Flats field where the Elders A. C. hot after the second-half flag will play the Slovak Club, champs of the first-half. It will be Leroy Anderson for the Slovaks and Lamm for the Elders, it was indicated today by the respective managers.

The West Pittsburgh "Gas House" Gang will be up at the Glasser ball lot to oppose the K. Pulaski team. The pitchers will be Tonsetto or Powell for West Pittsburgh and Mrozek or Soho for the Oaklanders.

Ryanstown-Tigers Ryanstown will be up at the Lee Avenue field for a battle with the West Side Tigers, a district affair. Fallier will probably go to the hill for the Tigers and it will be Owey or Hitch for the Sampson street boys.

The St. Josephs team will be out at Scotland Lane to meet the Union Civics, and the pitchers will be Shaw for the Union and Sargent or Hill for the Saints.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

A throw-back to the olden days will come when Joe Louis and Bob Pastor, step into a Detroit ring, September 20, the champion and title contender having signed yesterday for a 20-round bout. In the days of yesteryear, the fights, always were either listed for 20 rounds, 45 rounds or a fight to the finish. This brought out the best qualifications of both scrappers.

Larry Regal, the Butler terror, will not terrorize anyone here Monday night. State Motor Policeman John Hardy, trainer for Larry, having notified the Jefferson A. C. today, that a cut above one of the Terror's eyes, has not sufficiently healed to permit Regal to swap punches. A boxer equal in ability to Regal, will take his place.

A. W. Swan, of Highland, Pa., won medal honors in the 36-hole qualifying round of the nineteenth annual Western Pennsylvania golf championship tournament at Greensburg, Wednesday. Jack Dempsey has recovered to such an extent from an appendicitis operation, he has been permitted to enjoy a short stroll.

Arthur Donovan of New York, will referee the Tony Galento-Lou Nova fight in Philadelphia. It now becomes known that Fritz Zivic suffered from a cold contracted in St. Louis when he boxed and lost to Charley Burley, at Pittsburgh several nights ago. Art Rooney, and Barney McGinley are preparing to stage another show there in August.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Bits of baseball news—To date, the New York Giants have been fined a total of $460. Ray Chaik, former White Sox star, has resigned as pilot of the Indianapolis Indians of the American Association loop. To Clint Brown, of the White Sox, goes the title, "Workhorse of the Majors". Clint, who has been around the majors for 11 years, has been called for relief duties in more than 50 games. He has saved quite a few tilts for Jimmy Dykes. The Middle Atlantic circuit helped to develop no less than 11 of the players selected for the '39 major league "dream game". Cronin, pilot of the Red Sox, got his start at Johnsonstown, Bill Lee, of the Cubs, Frank McCormick, Johnny Vander Meer, of the Reds, Morrie Aronovitch, of the Phils, Babe Phelps, of the Dodgers, Joe Medwick, of the Cards, Johnny Murphy, of the Yanks, Jeff Heath, of the Indians, George McQuinn, of the Browns and Tommy Bridges, of the Tigers, complete the array of talent sent up to the big show from the Class C loop. The passing away of J. Lou Comiskey, president of the Chicago White Sox, will be greatly felt in the majors. The 54-year old mogul was one of the grandest men in baseball.

Sport jottings—That Conn-Bettina fight is still being aired in fight corners. Friend Eddie Brietz, one of the top scribes in the land, offers this slant: "It was close. We picked Conn but still think Bettina shaded him." Gus Dorazio, Conn's next foe, twice floored and defeated Bob Pastor, last winter. Four spectacular years in the ring netted King Levinsky $350,000.

Local sports shorts—During a sports discussion in a downtown beaery, Hayden Evans, coach of West Orange high school in New Jersey, paid a fitting tribute to his former high school coach, Phil H. Bridenbaugh. Evans, who has elevated the gridiron standing of the New Jersey school, said: "Without a doubt, Bridy is one of the greatest high school coaches in the country. It's doubtful if anyone in the country can match his record. His reputation is nationwide." It was gratifying to hear a former pupil doff his hat at his former instructor. As for Evans, who is vacationing here, he rates as one of the top gridironists in New Jersey. We peered into his record and were somewhat astounded. West Orange was listed as a "pushover", until Evans took over the reins. In the past several years, West Orange has turned out among the strongest aggregations in the state. Blessed with an even temper, the patience of Job and a personality that strikes one quickly, no wonder the former localite is on his way up the ladder.

Pirates Defeat Crippled Giants

Arky Vaughan Leads Hit Parade With Five, Including Homer; Brown Pitches Well

WHITE SOX DROP RED SOX TWICE

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 20.—Viewing the growing hospital roster from day to day, one is led to the conclusion that baseball is rapidly becoming one of the more hazardous sports.

Two more were added to the steadily growing casualty list yesterday when Schoolboy Rowe of the Tigers was put out of commission by a liner that struck him on the knee and Walter Brown of the Giants went to the hospital when Arky Vaughan smashed his wrist with a terrific line drive.

The Pirates knocked out Lohrman, figuratively; Walter Brown, actually; Terry himself lifted Coffman and McCarthy finished; the four giving up 19 hits including five for five for Vaughan, who had a grand slam with reverse english—homer, triple, double and two singles.

Brown Pitches Well
Mace Brown spread seven hits among the discouraged Giants for an easy 10-3 decision.

The Bees took the Cubs, 3-2, on three straight bunts in the ninth, the last one squeezing over the winning run.

The Tigers blanked the Senators, 11-0. Schoolboy Rowe stopped a liner with his knee in the fourth, and was carried out. All three Senators hits were made off Rowe.

The Yanks were rained out in St. Louis but increased their lead when the White Sox took a pair from the Red Sox, 4-1 and 8-0, Rigney pitching a four-hitter in the nightcap. In two night games, the Cincinnati Reds topped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4 to 2 in a 10-inning encounter, and the St. Louis Cardinals trimmed the Phillies 4 to 2.

Man Who Kidnaped His Divorced Wife Taken By Police

(International News Service)
NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 20.—Captured in a tourist cabin with his divorced wife, whom he had allegedly kidnaped, James J. Kehoe, 24, of Hudson, ex-Concord reformatory inmate, today faced district court charges of kidnaping, armed robbery, larceny of a revolver and automobile and assault with a dangerous weapon.
Climaxing an eight-state, 24-hour police hunt, Kehoe was taken without resistance by two state police troopers at an overnight cabin in New Salem. With him was Mrs. Bernice Beckwith, 27, who had divorced him and married Cyril Beckwith, 30.
Kehoe, according to state police, had forced Mr. and Mrs. Beckwith into Beckwith's automobile together with Leroy Langdon, a plumbing shop clerk, after allegedly holding up and robbing the two men of $9. The men, together with Mrs. Beckwith, were forced to ride with Kehoe to Amherst, where Beckwith and Langdon were forced from the car and Kehoe drove off with his former wife, whose affections he has been trying to regain, police said.
When Kehoe was located at a cabin as a result of a tip given by a gasoline station proprietor, he came to the door unarmed saying: "Don't shoot, I surrender." Mrs. Beckwith was inside the cabin hysterical and exclaiming, "I told you the police would get you."

The homes of the ancient Romans were almost imperishable, because of the fact they were erected in a climate wherein there was practically no freezing and thawing. The same mortars used in our climate have been unsuccessful. In fact, the same stones used by the Romans give a comparative short life in the United States.

New State Map Will Be Ready For Distribution in Near Future

Several new features are contained in the 1939 edition. Secretary Hughes pointed out. For the first time all major routes that are wide enough to accommodate three or more lanes of traffic have been marked for the information of the motorists.
The route of the toll road between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh, under construction by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission of which Secretary Hughes is a member, is designated with broken lines. Location of the seven tunnels on this road also is shown.
The street lay-out of twenty-nine cities showing the connections with major state highway routes is also included in the new map.
